Cars and Coffee Draws a Crowd

Article by Marian Fuller / Images by John Fuller

If you didn't attend the Cars and Coffee event on Sunday, Feb. 22, you missed a fun-filled event! More than 75 Bell Tower neighbors came to the Bell Tower Clubhouse to sip coffee and view some super-hot vehicles and motorcycles in the bright morning sunlight.

Thanks to Rocky Moran for rounding up the car owners, and further thanks to all of them for sharing their "toys" with all of us.

Done under the auspices of the Social Committee, Cars and Coffee was a perfect way to wave goodbye to a winter season that's been marred by several weeks of on-again-off-again cold spells gripping the nation. In fact, while most of the event's attendees wore shorts and flip-flops, many neighbors kept an eye on another wintry blast that was forecast to hit the northeastern seaboard the same evening. Feel free to print and send this article to friends and family bravely living "Up North" as a reminder that Southwest Florida is truly paradise!
