Bell Tower Park Residents Enjoy “FlaMingle & Paint” Night

Article by Nina Anderson

The Bell Tower Park Social Committee hosted a lively Paint and Sip Night in the clubhouse on Tuesday evening, bringing together 24 residents for a fun and creative class titled, “FlaMingle and Paint.”

Participants spent the evening painting a vibrant flamingo using acrylic paints while enjoying good company and conversation. Instructor and resident, Nina Anderson, created a digital step-by-step PowerPoint presentation that was displayed on the clubhouse television, allowing painters to easily follow along as they worked on their canvases. Throughout the evening, she also circulated around the room offering tips, encouragement, and guidance to help everyone bring their flamingo to life.

Guests enjoyed a cheese and fruit platter provided by the Social Committee, along with an assortment of small crackers. The BYOB format made the evening relaxed and social, giving residents the opportunity to express their creativity while meeting new people and connecting with neighbors.

The event proved to be extremely popular, selling out on the first day of ticket sales and generating a significant waiting list. Due to the high demand, a second Paint and Sip event will be held on March 31. Residents are encouraged to keep an eye on their email for upcoming details and registration information.
